Newspaper Highlights from the Past

Yoakum [TX] Weekly Herald — 8 Dec 1910: Fifty one years ago on December 3, 1859 - Drs. Si [Josiah Shafer] and John [Abraham] Youngkin landed in Lavaca County with their parents - the later Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Youngkin from Ohio. Their father was a school teacher and engaged in that profession after locating here. The family first settled at Hope, a small village 4-5 miles south of where the village of Hope is now located. They later moved to Hallettsville, where they got their professional education. After becoming practitioners - Dr. Si located at Hope and Dr. John at Antioch. After the railroad was built - they both moved to Sweet Home and a few years thereafter to Yoakum.

[Brothers Drs. Josiah & John Abraham² Youngkin, Henry Clay¹ Youngkin, Abraham³ Youngkin, Abraham² Youngkin, Herman¹ Jungheh]

After reading this brief article from the Yoakum Weekly Herald, I wrote to Pauline Youngkin (107 Marlena Dr, San Antonio, TX 78213-2856), daughter of Si (Josiah) and Minnie (Sample) Youngkin and granddaughter of Dr. John Abraham Youngkin above, and asked her to tell me a little bit about her parents which she kindly did. The following is from her letter:

"Minnie Mae Sample of Burlington, Texas — was 30 when she first met and married Josiah Shafer Youngkin — he was 41 and he was known by family and friends as — Si. They were introduced by mutual friends of theirs — through the mail. They corresponded for about six months along with exchanging pictures of each other and knowing about their families — later he proposed marriage. She was living at home with her elderly parents and caring for them — they encouraged her to accept the proposal — as he seemed like a nice gentleman — from a nice family. Minnie Mae traveled by train to Yoakum, Texas — whereas they met for the first time and the marriage lasted for 42 years upon his passing.

"Minnie Mae and Si were deaf by not from birth. She at an early age of five had the mumps and a high fever damaged her ears. So up until she was five she was able to hear and speak. Si at an early age, about 8 months or so, through teething had a high fever, which damaged his ears as well. His father being a doctor took him to Chicago — to then — the best doctors but the damage was permanent. They received their education in Austin, Texas at the "Texas School for the Education of the Deaf." The school still exists and has been for sometime co-educational but during their education it was not. In those days, they remained until summer vacations. Four children were born to this union: Pershing, John and Pauline (a girl twin of Pauline passed away at birth).

Minnie Mae was a homemaker, a loving mother and wife, a wonderful cook and seamstress. She sewed all the clothing for the family, along with her quilting by hand. Si was a very good provider for his family as having been in the vulcanize business which is repairing tires and tubes on cars and trucks, until tubeless tires came into being. Then he had his own bicycle shop as well as finishing and repairing furniture — his shop was at our home. He had artistic talents — painting and drawing. When growing up he made all his sisters their doll furniture in wood — by hand. Si had a keen mind and a great sense of humor. In spite of their handicap they gave their children a good upbringing in values and a Christian life. The children were very knowledgeable in the sign language for the deaf — which they learned from them.

Minnie Mae and Si had many deaf friends that would come and visit for weeks at a time. They were the only deaf mutes in Yoakum. During these visits there was much joy and fun amongst them. The friends were warm, loving and caring which brought to their children a kind and gentle surrounding.

Minnie Mae passed away at the age of 87 in 1975 and Si passed away at the age of 83 in 1960. They had a loving and caring relationship. Thank you for letting me share my parents with you — they enriched our lives.

My very warmest of wishes to you and yours.

Pauline*

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

More information on the Younkin-Husband families from Cousin Dave Trimpey, Rd 2, Box 83, Pittsfield, PA 16340.

Dear Donna,

...I read the article on the HUSBAND-YOUNKIN group in the last newsletter [YFNB Vol. 6 #1] which made me remember a bit of information that was in a book called "Reflections, Ursina 1787-1994". In that book was a copy of a page from the *Laurel Messenger*¹ with a name on it, Toscapedeath, which being unusual, stuck in my head. At the end of the Husband-Younkin Group article you provided additional information which included the name Isaac Tuscape Husband and that middle name reminded me of the Toscapedeath alias used by one Harmon Husband. The Husband-Younkin article gives Isaac's father's name as "Herman", but that unusual middle name makes me think that Herman and Harmon are one in the same. The article also refers to "old Herman" and "Herman of Revolutionary Times" and the date of Isaac's birth and the First Assessment for 1773 that put Harmon in Somerset County shortly after seem to make sense. I don't remember ever hearing about a Harmon Husband in any history books of the American Revolution, but both articles seem to suggest that there is something more to this story of Herman Husband "of Revolutionary Times who fled from North Carolina with a price on his head" (I'm assuming the British were after him). Does anyone know the rest of this story? One other comment, Toscapedeath must have had some wealth as he was the second largest landowner in the county at that time, despite being a fugitive....

First Assessment List for 1773 —
DEATH, Toscape - 600 acres, 5 cleared

At the end of this list of county taxpayers is the following notation:

"The unusual name of Toscapedeath was an alias used by Harmon Husband "The Old Quaker" who had fled from North Carolina with a price on his head."

"We welcome you to Trinity to hear Marian Messek's piano recital. Marian was born in Johnstown [PA] and attended Conemaugh Township High School and the University of Pittsburgh at Johnstown where she accompanied choirs, gave solo performances and recitals, and did ensemble work with vocalists and instrumentalists.

"However, music was not to be her profession. Mrs. Messek joined IBM Corporation and worked as a Marketing Support Representative and Systems Engineer for 30 years. She was transferred to Boston in 1967 and has lived in New England ever since.

"During her career with IBM, Marian studied piano sporadically. When she was asked to accompany one of the choirs at her church in Essex, Connecticut, she realized that she needed to get her fingers back in shape. She began studying with Linda Skernick. Since that time, she has participated in Master Classes and has given her first recital in 30 years.

"Mrs. Messek accompanies a Vocal Workshop at the Community Music School in Centerbrook, Connecticut and performs as a soloist and in ensembles in the area.

"When she is not practicing, rehearsing, or performing, Marian enjoys sailing and skiing with her husband, John."

Also participating in this event was Mrs. Messek's brother, Art Younkin, who sang several solos.

Our New Friend in Germany...Klaus Medeke

I have a new friend on the Internet, his name is Klaus Medeke and he resides in Frankfurt Am Main, Germany. Over the past few months we have shared lots of information about our families, the histories of our countries and many other items of shared interest. We are both very interested in our family genealogy. Klaus has worked on his family's German heritage for many years. And his experience with German research has been very helpful to me.

He has helped our organization in many other ways as well. I told Klaus that I was interested in corresponding with families in Germany that had the surname Junghen, Junghan, etc. And because of our interest, Klaus went out and purchased a set of the German CD Phone Book. He has sent me all of the names and addresses of any German family with the surname: Junghen, Junghan, Junghans, and Junghanns.

In addition to that he has helped us to write a letter of inquiry, in German, to all of these families. These letters will be sent out in the next few weeks.

Also playing a major role in all of this is Roger Yonkin, our cousin working on the Junghen family cookbook. Roger has helped immensely to pull all of these efforts together.

Our friend Klaus has also helped us to translate some of the older German documents we have gathered over the years. One of the most important is the "advertisement" that appeared in the 1 October 1751 issue of Sower's Germantown Newspaper. It was an advertisement placed by Johann Henrich Junghenn, indicating that he was returning to Germany and would take letters (commissions) back to Germany. This newspaper was published in Germantown, Pennsylvania between the years 1743 and 1762 and was called: Pennsylvanische Geschicht-Schreiber, later called Pennsylvanische Berichte. [All published in German] Until recently, I have only had a brief transcript of the advertisement Henrich placed in this newspaper. This brief transcript was published in the book "Genealogical Data Relating to the German Settlers of Pennsylvania and Adjacent Territory - From Advertisements in German Newspapers Published in Philadelphia and Germantown, 1743-1800", by Edward W. Hocker, Gen. Pub. Co., Baltimore, MD, (1980). This brief transcript said:

October 1, 1751

Johann Henrich Junghenn, unmarried, of Tinicum (Bucks County), expects to go to Germany. Commissions for him may be forwarded to Johannes Zacharias, tanner, Germantown.

My pleas for assistance in obtaining the EXACT wording of this advertisement from the microfilm of this newspaper to two libraries in Pennsylvania were met with this response: "we can not do research for you because of budget constraints". I finally hired a researcher to go to the Philadelphia Historical Society library and she was able to get this for us. I believe she had a bit of trouble reading the microfilm but the essence of the text is here:

In German the advertisement stated:

"1 Oct 1751 — Johann Henrich Junghenn, ein lediger Mensch in Dinneckum¹, macht bekannt dass er willens ist nach Deutschland zu reisen, über Siegen ins Hessenland biss Nieder Aas.

Wer etwas durch ihn stellen will kan es abgehen zu Germantown bey Johann Zacharias dem Gerber."

[I believe this should have read Tinicum, which is the town in Bucks County where Henrich was living -DYL]

Klaus has kindly translated the advertisement:

1 Oct 1751 — Johann Henrich Junghenn, an unmarried man from Dinneckum, announces his departure to Germany, travelling via Siegen to Hesse and Nieder Aas.

If anybody has something to be delivered please give it to Johann Zacharias, the tanner, in Germantown.

Klaus also noted that in checking the map of Hesse there is no city named Nieder Aas and says that this is possibly Niederahr which is a town south of Siegen.

Needless to say, at least we now have an area in Germany to concentrate our efforts on! Thanks so much Klaus for your help!

Hesse Germany

Hesse Germany [hes'-eh]

Hesse (German, Hessen), is a state in west central Germany, bordering the Rhineland on the west and Thuringia on the east. It was created in 1945 by merging the former German state of Hesse, or Hesse-Darmstadt, with the former Prussian province of Hesse-Nassau, originally Hesse-Kassel.

Hesse has an area of 21,114 sq km (8,152 sq mi) and a population of 5,524,000 (1988 est.) WIESBADEN (1986 est. pop., 266,700) is the capital. The chief agricultural crops are wheat and barley. Mixed farming is common, with farmers raising significant numbers of cattle, hogs, and poultry. The leading industries, by employment, are chemical production, electrical engineering, machine construction, and the motor vehicle industry. The major cities besides Wiesbaden are KASSEL, DARMSTADT, and FRANKFURT AM MAIN, the largest city of the region. Wiesbaden carries on an important wine trade and produces surgical instruments, chemicals, textiles, and chocolates. Kassel manufactures iron goods, locomotives, machinery, aircraft, and scientific instruments. Frankfurt is an important commercial center, as well as a producer of aircraft, motor vehicles, and chemicals.

Hesse was the homeland of many mercenaries who fought for Britain in the American Revolution; as a result the name HESSEANS was incorrectly applied to all of the German mercenaries. Hesse became an independent landgraviate (county) at the end of the 13th century. Philip the Magnanimous (PHILIP OF HESSE), who ruled from 1509 to 1567, was the most famous landgrave.

Hesse-Kassel, the original territory of one of Philip's sons, became an electorate in 1803. Part of the short-lived Napoleonic kingdom of Westphalia and later a member of the German Confederation, it was combined with other areas to form the Prussian province of Hesse-Nassau in 1868. Hesse-Darmstadt, a landgraviate also created after the death of Philip the Magnanimous, was made a grand duchy by Napoleon I and became part of the Confederation of the Rhine. Hesse-Darmstadt ceded territory to Prussia after the Seven Weeks' War (1866), but its dynasty continued until Ernest Louis abdicated in 1918.

Kassel Germany

Kassel - {kah'-sul} (1991 est. pop., 194,268) is an industrial city in Hessen state, Germany. It is located on the Fulda River about 150 km (93 mi) northeast of Frankfurt am Main. The city's manufactures include locomotives, automobiles, electrical machinery, synthetic textiles, and optical and precision instruments. Lignite is mined in the surrounding countryside. The city is also a transportation center and a river port.

Originally a Roman settlement, Kassel was chartered in 1180. The city flourished after the landgraves of Hesse established their residence there in 1277; in 1567 it became the capital of Hesse-Kassel. The city was heavily damaged during World War II, but most historic buildings were rebuilt. Notable among them are the Rathaus and the State Theater and the 17th- and 18th-century castles of Karlshaus, Wilhelmshöhe, and Wilhelmstal. The Federal Art Collection houses one of Germany's finest collections of paintings.

The Background Behind the Family Crest

Quite a few years ago, Larry and I were New Orleans attending a convention. One afternoon while we were wandering around the stores at River Walk on the Mississippi, we spotted a store with family history information and information on family crests and coats of arms.

I inquired if they had any for Germany and the woman brought out a book that was all in German but with pictures of family crests with the names associated with them under the picture. I was amazed to find the surname JUNGHEN. So I paid the $69 and ordered one to be made for me in watercolor. I was thrilled when it arrived and immediately had it framed and hung it on a wall. It wasn't until a few years later that someone asked me where I had learned about the crest. It was then that I realized I couldn't read the name of the book the clerk at the store had written on my receipt!

And now our friend Klaus Medeke has also done us another favor. He checked at his local library for the book from which our family crest came from and here it is:

Otfried Neubecker, Grosses Wappen-Bilder-Lexikon der buergerlichen Geschlechter Deutschlands, Oesterreichs und der Schweiz. Muenchen, 1985.

Below you will also find two pictures Klaus copied from the book (Jungen/Junghen was found on page 8, and Jungkenn was found on page 167):

The Ramada Inn, Somerset, Pennsylvania welcomes the Younkin Family Reunion. Friday evening the Younkins attended the family hospitality suite in the Ramada Inn's Black Diamond Room. (2) Crossroads Cemetery, Harnedsville, PA, former site of the Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church and Cemetery. This is where Revolutionary Patriot Jacob Younkin (1761-1811) is buried. With a scenic backdrop of the Laurel Mountains, the Somerset Pennsylvania Chapters of the Daughters and Sons of the American Revolution hosted the 200th Anniversary of Ministry of Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church, Saturday, July 22 at 7 pm. After a welcome by Vice Pastor John J. Palko, a history of the Church was given by Everett Sechler, vice president of Trinity Council, president of the Cemetery Association. A salute and biographical history of three Somerset County Revolutionary War patriots was given: Jacob Younkin, James Holliday and David Ream. Shown here is Donna Younkin Logan presenting the history of the Younkin family's settlement in the Laurel Mountains and Jacob's service in the Revolutionary War under Captain Manus Yost's Regiment of Foot Soldiers serving from Bucks County, Pa. Dressed in authentic clothing (all handmade), attendees at the reunion were fascinated with the unique collection of historical memorabilia our guests brought to display. As I received recipes from cousins over the past 2 years, I have written in return asking for many necessary clarifications (spellings, ingredients, names) and have had about two replies. I just can't keep writing, so if you have an unanswered letter, please respond now, we would really appreciate your efforts.

The few anecdotes submitted are wonderful. I can't believe the remainder of you have nothing to tell about you, your family and/or your ancestor cook. You have no recollection of watching mom bake in that warm kitchen of long ago as snow gently fell outside?

Also, only 2 or 3 cousins sent photos. Last chance to get a photo of your ancestor, homestead, etc. in our book. If you can't send a photograph copy, obtain a photo copy at your local copier who will explain how to get a "good" result.

I am assigning page numbers, making an index, etc. so can't wait much longer for entries. Can't give you a closing date but, will try real hard to get your submission in and certainly into later update.

Hoping to hear from some of the cousins!

Hi, Donna,

I received your newsletter today and wanted to let you know right away what a fantastic job you have done in publishing it. The items in it are so interesting and informative. I commend you at having done it all in spite of your "major stresses" (wedding & death) and busy life schedule. I can't believe that you pulled it off at all, let alone as well as you did! My hat is off to you. :-)

I would like you to know that I will give you my permission to publish my America Online Address to our Younkin cousins. I'd like to get to know them, too. So please do. :-)

I have a couple of new twigs to report to the family tree. If I had a scanner, I'd scan the baby pictures and send them to you. I'm thinking about getting a hand scanner, but just a thought right now. Anyway the new little "twigs" are:

1. Austin James Auffhammer born August 2, 1995. Weighed in at 8 and one half pounds, and 21" long. (son of Eric and Myken Auffhammer) This is child number 3 for them and the third boy. Eric and Matthew are brothers. Eric and Myken really wanted a little "girl" this time, but Matthew and Monica wouldn't make a trade. <g> I can't remember if I told you that Christian Lee Auffhammer was baby boy number two born August 24, 1993.

2. Sierra Marie Auffhammer born August 7, 1995. Weighed 7 lbs. 2 oz.; 19" long. Daughter of Matthew and Monica Auffhammer.

Matthew and Monica were married January 20, 1995 in Alpine, Ut. at our LDS Chapel.

My Dad (McNeill Sherman) and his wife, Andree' are planning a trip to your Younkin reunion this coming summer. They have invited me to go, too, so I'm going to start planning now. :-)

Thanks for the fantastic newsletter and all the hard work and great effort you put into it to deliver it!

Another mystery solved...

Dr. Jesse "Noble" Younkin

Noble Younkin has been a mystery to Younkin researchers for many years. Dr. Younkin's writings (rather eccentric) are found in many of the old issues of the YFNB. He was an active member of the Younkin Family Association in the 1930s and '40s. But in none of the articles was there any mention of his ancestors and we were unable to figure out just where he fit in the Younkin family tree. Now, through much investigation, we know he is the son of Christopher Younkin (see lineage at bottom of story.)

His obituary appeared in the Anderson Daily Bulletin, Anderson, Indiana, published 27 Oct 1958, page 6.

"Dr. J. Noble Younkin, 83, died Sunday at 8:30 a.m. at his home 4 East Main St., Chesterfield, after an extended illness. He had been a resident of Chesterfield for the past eight years.

"For over 50 years he had practiced medicine in Decatur, Ind. He received his medical degree from the American College of Medicine in St. Louis, Mo. During the First World War he served as a Major in the Medical Corps. He was a member of the American Legion Post at Decatur, a member of various medical associations, and was a 32nd Degree Mason. Also Dr. Younkin was an Egyptologist and collector of Egyptian artifacts.

"The body was taken to the Sell and Rowe Funeral Home, where friends are being received. Tuesday morning at 8 a.m. the body will be taken to Terre Haute, where graveside services will be conducted at 1 p.m. in the Rose Lawn Memorial Park Cemetery by the American Legion.

"He is survived by the widow, Audra, and one sister, Mrs. Irene Swearingen of Crawfordsville."

Is there a doctor in the house...

Did you know?

The American Medical Association's Deceased Physician Masterfile contains information, including educational background, on more than 350,000 U.S. physicians from 1878 to 1969. The database can be searched for a fee (about $15). Direct inquiries to the AMA Library and Archives, P. O. Box 10623, Chicago, IL 60610.
